

THE COMPLETE CAMPSITE

stand 71D

Left and above: The Complete Campsite has a range of offroad campers sure to suit.
Right: Jodie Joyce with husband Grant (right) accepts the Business Excellence award.

In the know

The crew at The Complete Campsite understand what you need in a camper trailer – they’re campers themselves.

When it comes to building a camper trailer that fits your needs, The Complete Campsite is one company that knows what it’s talking about. This Australian-owned family business is celebrated for its quality custom-built campers, which range from luxury-style highway tourers, such as the on-road model in the Deluxe range, to offroaders such as the Nomad Uluru.

The Complete Campsite’s knowledge has come from building camper trailers from the ground up – all on-site at its Gosford, NSW, premises – for over 15 years. Join owners Grant and Jodie Joyce at site 71D – they’d be happy to share their experiences with you.

As you make your way around the stand, take the time examine the finer details of the Nomad camper trailers on display. You’ll quickly see that all trailer compartments are secured with compression-style locks and that automotive rubber seals are used throughout.

Experienced campers will recognise and appreciate the clever design initiatives too, such as the handy stair system in the Nomad that provides easy access to the bed and the carpet-lined base.

“All trailers are fully customised to suit every individual’s needs and budget,” Jodie says.

For example, just by increasing the tent size to 16ft (4.9m), The Complete Campsite’s offroad Nomad range is able to provide sleeping accommodation for the whole family with little more effort to set up.

The tents are all made from high quality Dynaproofed Australian Wax Converters canvas, which is great news, as it’s immersed in UV stabilisers, rot and mildew inhibitors, and waterproof waxes. This process ensures longevity of the canvas and allows for excellent breathability, lowering the chances of condensation in the trailer tent. Heavy duty flyscreens are securely double-stitched into the canvas, as are the hard-wearing and durable zippers.

But quality of product is just part of the picture. A commitment to outstanding customer service has earned the manufacturer a slew of customer testimonials that are as long as your arm. “The experience in dealing with The Complete Campsite has been nothing but professional and personable, (they’re) real campers who built our camper as though they were building their own,” says customers Michael and Fiona Newman.

Indeed, The Complete Campsite earned acknowledgement at the Excellence Awards of the CCIA NSW in Wollongong earlier this year, for those very efforts. It won the 2008 Business Excellence Awards – Best Manufacturer, Caravan, Camper Trailers and Tents. The Complete Campsite was also a finalist in the category of Business Excellence Awards – Best Dealer, Wholesaler, Retailer, Regional NSW.

“The team has a real passion for the business, which will ensure their future success,” were the judges’ comments.

The Complete Campsite is willing to put its money where its mouth is. The company frequently hosts camping trips open to everyone and offers an excellent hire service that is sure to get you well acquainted with its campers.

The Complete Campsite has a network of four dealers across WA, Vic and NSW.

Find Complete Campsite at stand 71D

For more information call Complete Campsite on (02) 4323 9214 or visit www.completecampsite.com.au